NEW HAMPSHIRE BUILDER NAMED A WINNER IN 2016
INTEGRITY RED DIAMOND ACHIEVER AWARDS

Custom builder Yankee Barn Homes one of five winners for a unique barn-style home

FARGO, N.D. – (September 1, 2016) – Integrity Windows and Doors has announced the winners of its 2016 Red Diamond Achiever Awards, including a Londonderry, N.H. project by custom builder Yankee Barn Homes based in Grantham, N.H. The project, Bancroft, was one of five winners selected in the annual competition designed to honor the exceptional work of licensed builders, remodelers and architects who use Integrity windows and doors in their projects.

The 2016 judging panel included Lou Manfredini, DIY expert, “TODAY Show” contributor and host of several home-improvement TV shows, along with The Marvin Companies Director of Corporate Strategy, Christine Marvin, Frank Anton, vice chairman of Hanley Wood, and Shawn McCadden, a nationally-known speaker, business trainer, columnist and award-winning remodeler. The judges selected five Red Diamond Achiever Award winners, based on projects that demonstrated outstanding creativity, unique architecture, complexity, sustainability and solutions to construction challenges.

Expansive open views of post and beam architecture, lofted spaces adding visual interest, a catwalk-style upper level bridge and large and small barn windows come together to create a complete custom design for this New Hampshire home. Floor to ceiling windows in key focal points extend the sense of space and bring both light and the outdoors into the Bancroft home. To accomplish that goal, Integrity® Wood-Ultrex® Casement, Awning and Double Hung windows were the perfect choice. Integrity offered the color, energy efficiency and architectural fit the homeowners wanted, while also working within their budget.

“The Bancroft project is a perfect example of an inspiring, diverse and fun application of Integrity windows and doors,” said Christine Marvin. “From barn-style homes to lake-front getaways to beach bungalows, the use of Integrity’s tough, durable window and door products in these beautiful projects made for a winning combination in every entry. It was tough task selecting the winners from the variety of high caliber submissions that showcase Integrity’s range of applications in residential and commercial projects, equipped with the all-out performance to withstand any environment.”
